HOW TO PROTECT FRUIT FROM INSECTS.

The advice given below is selected from the writings of experienced horticulturists:

most insects. Kerosene can only a lonesome looking individual, on be used by diluting with water. the opposite side of the car remark-To mix oils with water, first combine them with milk, then dilute, as desired, with water. Sour beer and molasses attract moths, spread on boards placed in the orchards or on trunks of trees. Paris green is very effectual when it can be well applied; one pound mixed with twenty-five pounds of flour or plaster is sufficiently strong. Of London purple use only one part by weight to fifty parts of flour or plaster.

The common ground beetles, the lace-winged flies and the wellknown "lady bugs" are old friends of the horticulturist, and should be protected. As regards the noxious insects, the coddling moth ranks, for destructiveness, nearly at the top of the list. Paper or cloth bands are used, applied every ten days through spring and early summer, and in connection with the use of a proper wash. The apple tree borers, of which there are several kinds, are enemies of the apple, and quince, and some other trees When observed, cut the larvae out with a knife and place a sheet of tarred roofing felt about the collar of the trees to prevent furth er ravages. Dusting of lime are effectual with the cherry and pear slugs, abundant in moist regions, such as about Puget Sound. The plum curculio, which is not here vet, but is perhaps on the way, is an enemy that at present cannot be conquered. There is no remedy known except the jarring process, to commence as soon as the fruit times a week for a month. shakes off the curculio bitten fruit and it should be gathered up and descroyed. The steel blue beetle known as the grape flea beetle, nips the vine in the bud; the lar...e feed on the leaves in summer. The beetles are jarred off the vines in the early morning, over an inverted umbrella, or lime is used; for the larvae, alum water. One ounce of alum to a gallon of warm water destroys the strawberry worm, so does white hellebore. Hand picking is about the only remedy for the gooseberry fruit worm. The current borer is troublesome. Cut out and burn all infected branches. Do

I think you will find the following rules very good. Though the time for boiling green vegetables depends much upon the time they have been gathered and the more quickly they are cooked. Always let the water boil before putting them in, and continue to boil until Turnips. Should be scraped before boiling, boil from 40 minutes to one hour. If mashed, press the water out first.

Beets. Should never be cut or scraped. Boil from 1 to 2 hours, when done put them one at a time into a pan of cold water and slip the skins off.

Carrots. Can be cut if too large. Boil from 30 minutes to an hour and a half.

Spinach. Should boil 11 hours. Parsnips. From 20 to 30 min-

Onions. Are best boiled in 2 or 3 waters, adding milk the last time. Boil from 20 to 30 minutes. String Beans. From 1 hour to 11 hours. Shelled beans. Require from 1 an hour to 1 hour.

Green Corn. From 20 to minntes. Green Peas. Should be boiled in as little water as possible, for 20 Asparagus. Same as peas; serve on toast with cream gravy.

Winter Squash. Cut in pieces and boil 20 to 40 minutes in a small quartity of water; when done press the water out, mash, smooth and season with butter, pepper and Cabbage and Dandelions. Boil from 1 to 1 hour in plenty of water, if the cabbage is large 11 hours. If salt is used in greens or cabbage put in while boiling.

Old potatoes. Are better to have the skins cut off the seed end, and better still to be pared and put into cold water 2 or 3 hours before boiling; then put them in fresh water; when done pour off the water, put the kettle on the top of the stove uncovered until the potatoes are Kumorous.

ASMART DRUMMER.

As the Carrollton train slowed up at Brooks Station the other day. a commercial-looking man, who had been noticed in earnest conversation with another party of the same general appearance, was heard to remark:

"Smart? He's the smartest drummer you ever met anywhere. Why, he's smart enough to sell suspenders

The commercial-looking man nodded his head at this very happy illustration, and everybody thought Oils of all kinds are deadly to the conversation was ended, when

> "It doesn't take a very smart man to sell suspenders to a dog.

> Even the sleepy passengers were aroused at this startling remark by the lonesome-looking individual, and the commercial man asked in some surprise:

"Why not?"

"Because it doesn't." "What would a dog want with suspenders?" "To keep up his pants," softly murmured the lonesome-looking individual, gazing out across the snow swept waste, with a far away look in his voice. And the astonished brakeman sighed so loud as to crack every lamp chimney in the car .- Griffin, Ga. News.

THE SECTION HAND'S SECRET.

Mr. Kimball, the present vicepresident of the Rock Island, took a seat behind two section men in a coach leaving Davenport for Chicago. The conductor came in and collected fare from one of the men, the other having previously paid. Said the latter, to gag his friend: "I can travel on this road whenever I want to, and never pay a cent." "How's that?" said the other "It's a secret," said the first. Mr. Kimball picked up his ears and thought he had a good-sized "hen on." The Paddy who last paid his fare got off at a way station, and Mr. Kinsets, and jar the fruit tree three ball slipped in to the vacated seat. Have a smoke," he said to the remaining Irishman. "How do you manage to travel without paying? I do a deal myself, and would like to know." "Would yez loike to "row?" said Pat, looking cunning. "Indeed I would, and I'll give you ten dollars if you tell me." "No." "Fifteen." "No." "Twenty-five." "Done!" said the Section hand, and the cash was forked over. "Be jabers, I walk!" This same Pat is section foreman on the Rock Island,

> WHY HE PASSED HIM .- The super intendent of a certain railroad called up a conductor one day and said to him:

near Davenport .- Chicago Tribune.

"So, sir, I understand you passed a man over our line recently on your own authority. Is it true, sir?" "Yes, sir; it is."

"Didn't you know, sir, that you were violating the regulations?"

"Then, sir, why did you do it, I should like to ask?"

"Well, captain, you see I got so dang lonesome riding back and forth every day all by myself, that I gave a friend of mine a pass just for company."

The conductor was looking for a job the next day .- Merchant Trav-

A Big MISTAKE .- "Ah! how de do?" exclaimed the hotel clerk, delightedly, grasping the hand of a stranger and giving it a vigorous shake. "I suppose you will prefer the second floor front suite; magnificent apartments and cheap, too, only $80 a day."

"Eighty dollars a what?" gasped the stranger.

"A day. Will you go up now?" "Not so fast, young man," said the stranger. "Don't you think terms are just a little high? I am a banker, but my income is only $30, 000 a year." "Oh! I see, I see," said the clerk; "then a fifth floor $4 room will suit you. I mistook you for an editor.-Philadelphia Call.

A WITTY PHYSICIAN.—A witty physician in Paris, being called to physician in Paris, being called to attend a very pretty actress, after duly feeling her pulse and looking at her tongue, pronounced that marriage was the only cure. "You are single, are you not, my dear doctor?" she asked. "Yes, madam; but the doctors only prescribe remedies—they do not take them"—twas the adjoinder.

HALF OUT OF HIS HEAD.

"Blessed be the man,' said Don Quixote's weary squire, "who invented sleep." Sancho's gratitude is ours, but what if one cannot for any reason enjoy that excellent invention? "Nervousness in me had become a disease," writes Mr. William Coleman, the well known wholesale druggist of Buffalo, "I could not sleep, and my nights were either passed in that sort of restlessness which nearly crazes a man or in a bind of which nearly crazes a man, or in a kind of stupor, haunted by tormenting dreams. Having taken Parker's Tonic for other troubles, I tried it also for this. The re-sult both surprised and delighted me. My nerves were toned to concert pitch, and, like Cæsar's fat men. I fell into the ranks of those who sleep o'nights. I should add that the Tonic speedily did away with the condition of general debility and dyspepsia occasioned by my previous sleeplessness, and gave me strength and perfect digestion. In brief, the use of the Tonic thoroughly reestablished my health. I have used Par-KER'S TONIC with entire success for seat sickness and for the bowel disorders inciden-to ocean vovages."

This preparation has heretofore been known as Parker's Ginger Tonic. Here-after it will be advertised and soid under the name of Parker's Tonic—omitting the word "ginger". Hereov & Co., are induced word "ginger." HISCOX & Co., are induced to make his change by the action of unprincipled dealers who have for years deceived their customers by substituting inerior preparatious under the name of ginger. We drop the misleading word all the more willingly, as ginger is an unimportant flavoring ingredient in our Tonic.

Please remember that no change has been, or will be, made in the preparation itself, and all bottles remaining in the hands of dealers, wrapped under the name of Par-KER'S GINGER TONIC, contain the genuine medicine if the fac-simile signature of His-coy & Co. is at the bottom of the outside
